

Tableware Applications

Dura Temp provides several products which are manufactured specifically for tableware applications. These include a variety of molded shapes, vacuum pads, platens, fingers, and custom-designed parts. The most recent additions to Dura Temp's line of tableware products are its stainless steel vacuum pads. These pads come in different versions, depending on the application, which include 100% stainless steel pads and stainless steel pads attached to a high temperature fabric backing.